Tartarini Sequential Fuel Injection Crack

Tartarini Sequential Fuel Injection is a fuel injection system for single and twin cylinder gasoline and diesel engines. The fuel supply system consists of the following: - fuel tank; - suction pump which sucks fuel from the tank; - valve body, which is inserted in the top of the tank, for the suction and supply lines; - fuel injector, through which fuel is fed to the engine; - pressure pump which relieves the pressure in the suction line. The fuel injection system is based on the principle that the difference between the pressure and the suction of the fuel can be used to control the fuel-air mixture in the cylinder.
