ZOMBIE PARKING LOT At its core, there are 4 AI characters (head count is maximum of 8), each with their own individual set of behaviors and responses to the player. These characters can be directed by the player to face off against another player's choices in order to resolve/devolve those choices as the game progresses. We had originally planned to make the AI characters as separate as possible, but this proved too difficult to execute, given the sheer volume of data they require to be modeled
