And I know that I can't run, There's no way I can outrun the man who hunts. Far away from home. And I know he'll kill again and again. Some call it a game. Some call it a sport. But I call it a race. Some call it a game. Some call it a sport. But I call it a race. I know it's a fight to the death. And I know he will win. If I run, he will find me. If I hide, he will find me. Somebody just has to pay. I'm sure he'll come to me. Look to my right, or left, or straight in front of me. And I know, I know, I know, I know, I know what will come. I know what will come. Far away from home. And I know that I can't
