Although Photoshop is used for image manipulation, it's much more than a paintbrush. It can be used for creating graphic designs, such as brochures, flyers, posters, and banners, as well as for retouching photographs. Photoshop is normally found in desktop versions on computers with a CD or DVD drive, though it can also be installed on a network server and accessed by users via the Internet or any web browser. It can also be found in version for mobile phones and PDAs. Photoshop is often used to do the following:

- Create and edit bitmap (raster) images
- Create vector graphics
- Manipulate images
- Add special effects
- Separate, blend, and join layers and images
- Correct and retouch images
- Create a variety of graphic effects
- Create professional graphics for printing or the web
- Join images to create seamless composite images

Hamlet Monastery The Hamlet Monastery, is a former Cistercian monastery, now a museum, located on the farm of the same name, in the hamlet of Ostenburg, in the municipality of Fredrikstad, in Telemark county, Norway. Overview The St Olav Fortress was built in 1279 and was a symbol of power in Trondheim. A chapel was added in 1300, after which the fortress was expanded and a cloister was added in the 14th century. The fortress was extensively renovated in 1688. The main entrance is through an arch designed by Carl Gabriel Settembrink. The original wooden structure has been replaced with a stone building. The church was used as a workhouse, but in 1902, the estate was sold to Christians Oftedahl, a wealthy ship owner and manufacturer of silk. He sold the estate in 1904 to the Church of Norway. The estate was originally called Hamlet and consisted of over of land. By the beginning of the 16th century, the estate consisted of. Hamlet had been directly under the control of the Church of Norway since the Treaty of Ghent in 1549. The surrounding farmlands were taken as private land and was owned by the Crown from 1838, and from 1868, taken by the Church of Norway for what came to be known as (literally: "royal gifts") for a period of seventy-five years. The farm was allowed to use all its income from leasing its land to the government for (half of its income) for a period of fifty-one years, as an estate (). This was made possible by a special law passed by the Parliament of Norway on 13 December 1854. The land was granted to the Diocese of Hamar (Xamap), based in Hamar, Norway, by King Oscar I of Sweden and King Frederick VII of Denmark for use as a Stavanger Cathedral. The monastery, along with other churches from Telemark, was renovated at the initiative of The Church of Norway as part of the construction of new cathedral churches in Tunsberg and Stavanger. The museum is built in the courtyard of the old monastery. The museum contains exhibits from the period of the monastic estate.
