For those running a school, this is an indispensable software, as it allows to manage student files in a range of courses in one place. The company holds the registration of all students in a school in a database, which makes it easy to ensure that every student is following a set of regulations and has the right to access certain software programs. The best feature of the software is that it allows multiple courses, which makes it easily manageable and even more so, with the ability to create user groups and have such groups searchable and reportable. Of course, Ecosis Student Information System provides an easy-to-use database and a flexible reporting system. You can record and track multiple students with their course attributes, so you can view each student's profile and his or her progress. Multiple subjects and courses can be assigned to users based on courses or subjects, so students can find courses and find only interested subjects. Having a scheduled date system is a feature that is worth mentioning. One can set up the weekly and monthly reports, so the teachers and the administration can view them at their leisure. On the downside, Ecosis Student Information System is non-networked, so one needs to buy a license for a network key. Nevertheless, the software is very easy to use and well supported. You can deal with multiple students
