And I am honored to finally be able to say good-bye to this project! My first roleplay, it was a real pleasure for me to work on and I am sure I can look back on this project fondly. The story of The Fate of Uthalia Obscure went through a lot during the development and it has been an absolute great experience for all of us. It is not possible to say good-bye without thanking all the different people who helped us get it across the finish line. Thank you so much!

There are a lot of names to mention, all the ones who showed their support, all the ones who took the time to give us constructive feedback, but I want to leave out one thing in particular, which I very much value. The name that comes to my mind is Gavin Free
