Additionally, EA SPORTS Football Club has been redesigned to deliver a more seamless user experience, introducing a revamped Match Centre that utilizes the integration of LIVE DATA to deliver updated match feedback, with players and Clubs receiving graphical feedback about their statistics, positioning, performance levels and more. Changes will also be reflected in the Match Day Guide and the Transfer Window. Clubs can perform a League and Cup loan operation from the LIVE PREMIUM LEAGUE INFORMS section of the player card. The Transfer Window will also be updated, meaning players will now receive transfer requests even if their club is in a CLUB STATUS and not in a working CLUB. HyperMotion Technology (HMT) allows the player to continuously enjoy realistic and authentic interactions, gameplay, and a true sense of presence in the match. Along with this, HMT provides three times the number of biometrics as the real-life player, which allows for unprecedented player and game performance. Biometrics used in HMT are generated by cameras, while the HMT system is driven and powered by real-time player data, allowing the player to move, run and tackle just as they would in the real world, in addition to capturing the player's vital statistics. Zlatko Dedić, Senior Producer for FIFA, commented: "FIFA 22 is dedicated to re-creating the reality of a football match, delivering a gameplay experience that will create a true football match feel; we've put together a FIFA you can actually play. From bringing new game mechanics, technology and gameplay features to broader gameplay improvements, this year's FIFA release will be bigger, better and more immersive than ever. To celebrate FIFA 22, fans can play some of the old school classics of the series on the 'My Career' Experience, from 1999 to the present day." Real Madrid legend Raúl, Jose Mourinho and Luka Modrić are just some of the names to have their own virtual debuts in FIFA 22, while EA SPORTS FIFA has recorded the largest number of guest appearances in the history of the series. To celebrate FIFA's 20th Anniversary, two Team of the Decade (FIFA 12) are featured in FIFA 22: Manuel Neuer, the 2010 World Cup MVP who last featured in FIFA 20 and Ronaldo

FIFA is a series of video games published and distributed by Electronic Arts. The series is an annual installment of the FIFA video game series, the annual installment of the FIFA video game series, created by EA Sports. The games feature association football (commonly known as soccer in North America and the United Kingdom), and were originally developed on the Sony PlayStation, but have also been ported to other gaming platforms including the Sega Dreamcast, Xbox and Windows. The first release of the series was a title for the Sony PlayStation, titled FIFA Soccer on which the series was eventually named for. The franchise has released annual titles since the first on PlayStation, alternating between Sony and Microsoft systems. The series' gameplay and presentation continues to evolve, with FIFA 10, released in 2009, being hailed as the biggest step in the series' history. The game also led to the franchise becoming an annual instalment. EA Sports' official website for FIFA lists the series as one of their "major franchises". Are FIFA games really that accurate? FIFA is one of the most successful sports video games of all time, and a large part of its success is its accuracy to the rules of association football. FIFA is regarded by many as the most realistic of all football games, due to its accurate physics, strike motions, and sharp presentation. Over a million registered players have competed in over 16 million FIFA matches. Players can compete in any of FIFA's official competitions, such as the FIFA World Cup, that includes 22 official competitions around the world. The games are scored using the Elo rating system. Each year the UEFA Champions League and UEFA Europa League leagues are available to play through in FIFA Ultimate Team, making it one of the few sports games in which you can compete in all of the official matches. The FIFA Ultimate Team mode is the main mode of the game, and players can compete in over a million official matches. Players can also compete in FUT Seasons, the main mode of the game for the FIFA Ultimate Team mode. Despite its high number of players, FIFA is considered by many to be the most authentic football video game. FIFA 16, released in September 2015, introduced a new form of online play called FUT Overhaul, which is more powerful than the older FUT Seasons online game. The new mode brings together all of FUT's players and creates one online 'franchise' with unlimited funds and a more effective promotion system that allows players to play bc9d6d6daa

FIFA Ultimate Team features an enhanced My Player Wizard, where you can create and name your own perfect Team of the Gods. Scouting Progression - Take full control of new scouting systems to scout top players globally, find the undiscovered gems hidden in the youth ranks, and develop your own youth academy. Or use the new Transfer Wizard to bring in the new and improved pre-set XI players that the big clubs can't offer. Realistic Player Behaviour - Control the game like you would if you were in the locker room. Watch players warm up, spectate training sessions, scout matches, negotiate transfers and get star players in your new club. Showcase Matches - Real world venues are brought to life on the pitch. Host and manage your club in the beautiful sights of historic real-world stadiums like Atletico Paranaense's Arena Governador Celso Ramos, Chivas Guadalajara's Jalisco Stadium, or Boca Juniors's Monumental. THE TROPHY For the first time in history, The FIFA World Cup™ Trophy returns to FIFA 22, presented by EA SPORTS™. The new Trophy is crafted from metal to look like a soccer ball, and features the FIFA World Cup logo. The trophy is the work of FIFA Design Director, Simon Fisher. The FIFA World Cup™ Trophy will only be available in-game and can be gifted to friends by the FUT Manager screen. THE COVER The FIFA World Cup™ is widely regarded as the biggest sporting event on earth. So it's fitting that the cover of FIFA 22, the Official Game of the FIFA World Cup™™ is one that shows the world exactly what it's like to be in the middle of it. Soccer superstars Xavi Hernández and Andrés Iniesta take centre stage, a high-intensity shot of Santiago Bernabéu Stadium provides the backdrop and it's just a matter of time before the real action kicks off. EA SPORTS™ FIFA 22 will be available on October 19th 2012 for Xbox 360 and PlayStation 3, with a bundle version of FIFA 22 available on Xbox 360 which includes a FIFA World Cup™ badge for FIFA Ultimate Team™ and a FIFA World Cup™ softcover edition of the Official FIFA Magazine. The PlayStation 3 version of the game will be available from October 18th. For more information on FIFA 22, please visit: www.easports.com/

What's new:

- Live your dream as a manager! Successfully manage your club to glory in “The Journey” - where you can change manager roles at your leisure, manage contracts as you try to achieve a tactical revolution, and risk your entire club as you compete for silverware at home and abroad. And what better way to reflect your management skills than with a new coaching and management simulator? In addition to watching your squad from the sidelines, you can take on five other managers to lift the silverware in the new manager vs manager matches which sees the teams compete for one trophy to qualify.
- Career mode: Make long-term decisions and create your squad as an apprentice footballer, transfer players in and out of your squad, and use advanced tactics to help win matches, boost your stats, and progress through your career. Allow your instincts to guide you as you go back to action against famous ex-players who may use tactics that you can employ to help you progress.
- Ultimate Team: Employ a secret squad of iconic players like Ronaldo, Messi, Kaká and more, all rated on their true FIFA skills instead of career attributes. The famous faces can give the intensity of a football match a whole new edge. Why not play the way that the pros do and pit your controlled skills against those of your fantasy team?
