Find your imei file number, download it and check if it has the same imei number from the IMEI number you entered in this forum..Some time ago I was asked to record the audio for a workshop that was going to be recorded and put up on Youtube, hosted by Paul Galanter. Paul is one of the smartest, funniest, most gentle, loving, most caring people I've ever met and his workshop, the Mommy Cave, is proof of that! If you have any interest in children, parenting, family life, relationships, family photography, or anything having to do with being the best parent you can be, you absolutely must subscribe to this series. It may just change your life. When I first saw the title of the workshop I nearly fell off my chair. There's nothing I love more than babies, kids and families, and when Paul is doing his workshops it's like a whole new world opens up to me. I was so honored to be a part of his workshop, and to be able to offer any help I could. I knew from the beginning that I wasn't going to have much time to blog (or read blogs for that matter) so it was important that I record Paul's workshop. There's so much good stuff to take from this workshop it's ridiculous. I also came to this workshop, as I had done many of Paul's previous workshops, with the intention of recording my experience of working with newborn babies. It's something I've always wanted to do, but haven't been able to.
