A method for the determination of dopamine-beta-hydroxylase activity in blood is described. The method is based on the isotachopheresis technique. The major procedure comprises incubating the sample with PCMB-MnCl2. The activity is determined by means of an enzyme electrode. The method has good reproducibility and specificity with satisfactory sensitivity (half-maximal activity is about 0.7 mumol/1 L of blood).After being cast in the third season of the CW's Jane the Virgin, actress Sofia Vergara is hoping that her ever-growing acting resume proves to be a welcome addition to the "cult" world of her hit show. Cue all the comparisons. Vergara, who is best known for her parts in films including Modern Family, made the comments to TV Line while promoting her role as Jane's mother, Yolanda. In the interview, Vergara said: "I get really tired of hearing, ♦
